

GEORGE M. COHAN, "YANKEE DOODLE KING," TO RETIRE

Struggle Between Art and Labor
Determines Stage Light to Cease Labors.

By International News Service.
NEW YORK, June 10.—George M. Cohan is going to retire from the theatrical business. Art and the closed shop demanded for next season by the Actors' Equity association can't live together, according to Cohan, and therefore, being in the minority, he is going to quit.
Cohan's differences with the Equity Association date back to the actors' strike of 1919, when he helped organize the Actors' Fidelity Association, an organization of non-union actors, pledged to the open shop. At that time Cohan declared flatly that he would never stand for a closed shop in any of his productions.
While Cohan's retirement will be a great loss to the stage, it will be nothing short of a calamity to the profession, for it means that the thousand or more actors who would have been engaged for the Cohan productions scheduled for next season will have to seek employment elsewhere.
"In face of the fact that the coming season does not look any too rosy, it seems to me that I might have helped a lot of actors had I been permitted to," said Cohan, in discussing his decision. "I might even have relieved distress through giving plays engagements who haven't had work for months. I was not in the game to make money. I have plenty of money for my own use, and—oh, well, I'm reading a rest, anyway."
Cohan's retirement will mark the passing of one of the leading figures of the American stage. A gifted actor, accomplished playwright, composer and author of dozens of popular hits, including "Over There," the famous war song, he has been an outstanding figure since his early youth, when he played in the famous vaudeville team of the Four Cohans.

Norway Strike Ends.

CHRISTIAN, Norway, June 10.—The general strike here has been declared ended and work will be resumed today except by the stokers, engineers and dock workers. They will remain on strike pending mediation negotiations.

"EAT 'EM WHILE THEY'RE HOT," SHOCKS VILLAGE

NEW YORK, June 10.—Cedar Grove, N. J., is aroused over a hot dog stand set up next door to the public hall by Mrs. Kate O'Connor about a month ago. The township committee wants an ordinance to keep the municipality inviolate by barring such stands forever. Jacob O'Grissing, township committeeman, said the stand is a "disgrace to the town." He declared:
"A hot dog stand may be all right at Coney Island, but it's all wrong in Cedar Grove."

"Satisfied!"

HEINZ OVEN BAKED BEANS

with Tomato Sauce

It's a joy to sit down hungry and get up happy—with a feeling of goodwill towards everybody—and a vote of appreciation to the skilled chefs who prepare Heinz Baked Beans in the spotless kitchens of Heinz.

Beans are naturally good. But it takes hours of slow baking by dry heat in real ovens to preserve their natural goodness and make them easy to digest. That's the Heinz method.

The delicious tang of Heinz famous Tomato Sauce, blends with the rich oven baked flavor of the Beans, and makes Heinz Baked Beans stand for complete satisfaction.
